

KUROPTKIN ADMITS FAILURE BY EVACUATION OF MANY POINTS

HONOR OF NOMINATION IS GIVEN TO SENATOR FAIRBANKS

RESISTLESS ADVANCE OF JAPANESE.

Russians Struggle in Vain in Torrid
Climate.

Overtaxed Soldiers Throw Away Everything
in Flight.

ST. PETERSBURG, August 3.—General Kuroptkin's armies are now concentrating upon Liao Yang, falling back respectively upon Anshanshi, Lian Dian Shan and Anping, as predicted in the dispatches of the Associated Press. These three points form a ring of closely knit defenses around Liao Yang and enable General Kuroptkin to risk a general engagement.

DOUBTFUL HOPES.

The only cause for anxiety is Anping, and General Kuroptkin's words that he hoped the troops would hold that place would indicate a misgiving. The Japanese evidently realized the advantage of attacking this point and directed their strongest advance along the Susutzu-Liao Yang line.

RETIRE DESPITE RESISTANCE.

A brief telegram from General Kuroptkin received this morning reports the evacuation of Hai Cheng and declares the Japanese did not continue the attack toward Liao Yang August 2d, adding that they were evidently unable to follow up their advantage of the previous day, owing to the stubborn resistance of the Russians, coupled with the tropical heat.

THROW AWAY COATS.

The general staff says the soldiers threw away their overcoats and equipments and a tide that everything possible was done to relieve them, but nevertheless there were a great number of deaths from sunstroke. He does not specify the casualties of the battle and makes no mention of the loss of guns.

RUSSIAN LOSS AS YET UNKNOWN.

ST. PETERSBURG, August 3, 4:30 p. m.—Whether a general engagement is already progressing around Liao Yang between the forces of General Kuroptkin and the three Japanese armies, which have been moved against them from the south and east, the decisive battle of the campaign is regarded as certain. If the Japanese energetically follow up their preliminary successes of the last three days.

DESPERATE FIGHTING.

At various points the fighting has been of a desperate and bloody character. The Russians offering the most stubborn resistance. The Japanese, therefore, although their extent is not yet established, must be heavy on both sides. Between 6000 and 8000 men is one estimate given of the Russian losses. All the estimates, however, are a little better than guess work is yet and possibly the Russian casualties may be much larger.

DRIVEN IN AT ALL POINTS.

The strong screen drawn around General Kuroptkin's interior positions has been driven in at all points. Hai Cheng being practically abandoned without a blow. The pressure of the Japanese numbers and the failure to hold the northern positions probably rendered it useless to try to hold out there.

The Russian forces last night constituted a compact chain in the form of a semi-circle around Liao Yang, extending from Anshanshi, half way between Hai Cheng and Liao Yang, to Anping, which is only thirteen miles east of Liao Yang.

JAPANESE STILL PRESSING.

Unless the bulk of General Kuroptkin's army has already been withdrawn north of Liao Yang, it is difficult to see how he could now do so with such great pressure, the Japanese being almost upon his main lines.

CHARLES W. FAIRBANKS, REPUBLICAN NOMINEE FOR VICE PRESIDENT.

FAIRBANKS WILL MAKE RUN FOR VICE-PRESIDENCY.

Acceptance By the Distinguished
Gentleman of the Great Honor
Conferred on Him.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. August 3.—Charles W. Fairbanks, senior United States Senator from Indiana, was today formally notified of his nomination for Vice-President of the United States by the Republican National convention.

The notification address was made by Elihu Root, ex-Secretary of War, who was temporary chairman of the convention.

THE SCENE.

The exercises were held on the wide veranda of Senator Fairbanks' beautiful home in the presence of members of the notification committee, consisting of one member from each State and Territory, the Governor and other State officers of Indiana, the Republican candidates for State offices, the Indiana Republican Congressional delegation, Indiana delegates and alternates to the National convention, the State Central Committee and the Republican National Association. All these had been especially invited.

MARCH TO THE HOME.

Shortly after noon the journey of one and a half miles to the Senator's home began. One thousand members of the March Club acted as escorts. In the first carriage rode Mr. Root and Governor Durbell. The Notification Committee and other special guests followed in carriages. Several thousand persons cheered as the line moved along.

AT FAIRBANKS' HOME.

Gathered at the residence were 5000 persons. Senator Fairbanks and Mrs. Fairbanks received the committee and especially invited guests. Mr. Root and Senator Fairbanks led the way to the veranda, where seats were arranged for all.

SPEAKERS GREETED.

An enthusiastic greeting was accorded to two speakers when they appeared on the veranda. The demonstration lasted several minutes, during which the members of the committee were seated. Mr. Root, without any preliminary, delivered the formal notification address.

ROOT'S ADDRESS.

Elihu Root spoke as follows: "Senator Fairbanks: The committee which now waits upon you was appointed by the National Convention of the Republican party held at Chicago in June, and its agreeable duty is to notify you of your nomination as the Republican candidate for the office of Vice-President of the United States, for the term to begin on the 4th day of March, 1905.

THE NOMINATION.

"We give you formal notice of that nomination with assurance of the undivided and hearty support of the great party which has executed the people's will in the government of this country for the better part of the last half century. The nomination comes to you in accordance with the best methods and practices of representative government. It was the result of long and earnest consideration and discussion by the members of the convention. It was not the chance product of an excited hour, and it was not upon the demand of any powerful influence—political or otherwise—constituting the judgment of the delegates. It was not made for the purpose of concealing possible malcontents, or of swaying the campaign fund of the party. No bargains or intrigues contributed to it. No suppressions of the truth or misleading of the convention as to your principles and opinions were necessary to bring it about. It was the deliberate, informed and intelligent judgment of the delegates from every State and Territory, and it was their unanimous judgment.

GREATNESS OF OFFICE.

"It is a great office to which you are called. John Adams, and Thomas Jefferson, and George Clinton, and John Calhoun and Martin Van Buren, and many others whose names are illustrious in the history of our country, have filled it. It is an office of high dignity and immediate, ever present importance. The credit and honor of our country are greatly concerned in the character and conduct of the man who presides over the Senate of the United States—that powerful and august body, of which you are already as experienced, so useful and so honored a member.

"But the Vice-President has other grave duties of imperative obligation. When the people elect a President under our political system, they do not merely select the man for the office; they give their approval to certain controlling principles and policies of government; and the administration of which the Vice-President is a part is bound to give effect to these principles and policies. The primary duty of the Vice-President is to be always ready to take up the burden of the Presidency, if occasion requires, carries with it the duty to be always

REMILLARD CALLED BY DEATH

Successful Brickmaker
Rounds Out Sixty
Seven Years.

Close of a Career in Which
Energy and Integrity
Were Displayed.

After an illness of several weeks, Peter N. Remillard, president of the Remillard Brick Company, died this morning at the family residence on Adams street, near Perkins street, Vernon Heights.

The deceased was a native of Canada, aged sixty-seven years. Nearly forty years ago Peter Remillard came to Alameda county. Soon after his arrival, he founded brick yards near San Leandro for the purpose of making bricks and tiles.

The Remillard Brick Company later began in a small way, but has gradually grown from year to year, owing largely to the efforts of the deceased. It is now rated as one of the biggest concerns of the kind in the country. The yards are now located near Pleasanton in this county.

Years ago Peter Remillard and family located at 654 Thirteenth street in this city, but some months ago moved to the present home place on Vernon Heights.

Close attention to business cares told on Mr. Remillard's health and a number of months ago he was advised by his physicians that it would be necessary for him to rest from his business career.

For several weeks Mr. Remillard was troubled with sinking spells and despite the best of medical attention he gradually grew worse so that his death this morning was not unexpected.

The deceased is survived by a widow and two daughters, Emma and Lillian, a son, Philip, having died several years ago.

The deceased was a devoted Mason and a member of the Athenian Club. Arrangements for the funeral have not been completed, but the burial will probably take place from the family residence Saturday afternoon.

MOTHER SAVES CHILDREN.

Mrs. R. G. Cramer's Fight
With Flaming Clothes
at Berkeley.

BERKELEY, August 3.—To save the lives of her little children and her home from destruction by fire, was the brave act today of Mrs. R. G. Cramer of McGee and Virginia streets. She was engaged in cleaning a couching with gasoline, when the flame communicated with the flames of a nearby stove.

The explosion which followed enveloped Mrs. Cramer in a sheet of fire, setting her clothing ablaze and scorching her face and hair. But this did not deter the brave woman.

Hurrying her children into a room off the kitchen, she carried the blazing garment upon which she had been working into the yard and prevented a serious fire.

FRANCIS MARION SMITH FOR ELECTOR.

The Well Known Capitalist Strongly Urged for a Place on the Electoral Ticket.

Frank M. Smith is being actively urged for nomination for Elector on the Republican ticket, and his friends announce that he will stand if nominated, although he will make no fight for the nomination. He has many enthusiastic supporters in Alameda county and will also receive strong support from the other counties in the district.

Mr. Smith is one of the most progressive, enterprising and public-spirited of Oakland's citizens. A man of large wealth and varied interests, he is conspicuous in all movements for public improvement and social betterment. He has always been a staunch Republican, and in the past has been a liberal contributor to the party campaign fund. He has no desire to hold office, and will only accept the nomination for Elector because the position is purely honorary and temporary.

Mr. Smith is identified in a variety of ways with the material interests of Alameda county in which he has invested large sums, which have greatly contributed to the building up of Oakland and the contiguous towns. He is the largest stockholder and the leading spirit in the Oakland Transit Company, and also of the Realty Syndicate, which has done so much to develop Oakland and its environs. He is particularly identified with the development of the box industry, which has been made prosperous and lucrative by his enterprise and business acumen. In an unobtrusive way he is a great promoter of charity and of projects for the amelioration of the condition of the poor.

At present Mr. Smith is in the East, but his friends give positive assurance that he will accept the nomination for Elector if tendered him, and his supporters are confident that he will be named without serious opposition. They assert that his nomination would be a strong one and free from factional semblance.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Aug. 3.—The Corinthian Yacht Club has instructed its secretary to communicate with the various yacht clubs on this coast asking that each send a representative to the races for the Lipton cup this summer. In order that an organization be effected for the Pacific Coast Yacht Association. The object is to have an association which shall take charge of the details of the future cup contests.

SYMPATHY SHOWN IN ST. LOUIS.

ST. LOUIS, August 3.—The allied trades have gone on a sympathetic strike, involving all the trades of the packing house industries of St. Louis. In this last walkout all the drivers and the boiler house men to the number of forty stopped work at the plant of the St. Louis Dressed Beef Company. The meat cutters engaged in the various city markets laid down their cleavers and the owners or their grocery assistants were forced to wait on customers.

The drivers of all the branch houses of Chicago packers in the city, numbering several hundred, are also out.

STRIKE HITS THE MEAT TRUST

Reduction of Number of Packing Plants in Ten Years.

Livestock Dealers Will Try Aid in Great Defeat.

CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—Homer D. Call, international secretary of the butchers' organization, said:

"The greatest feature of the strike is that the meat trust has been broken up by this strike. For ten years, from 1890 to 1900, the consolidation of the meat companies was carried on, and from 1,741 packing plants in this country, the number was reduced to 760.

INDEPENDENT PLANTS.

"Now the tide will set in the other way. The packers know that they have already lost control of a large part of their business, and that the livestock dealers will do all that is possible to assist in the defeat. Since the strike the independent plants of Chicago, Louisville, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Pittsburg, Springfield, Massachusetts, have been working night and day. This trade will never be recovered by the trust.

"The public is supporting the independent plants because of the meat monopoly."

ICE-ANDLERS.

To aid the strikers, the ice handlers and ice wagon drivers have refused to supply refrigerator cars of the strike affected packing plants. Without ice the packers are unable to ship meats.

LIVE STOCK.

The yards were flooded with live stock. Complaint was rife by reports of country shippers. Before the day's shipments arrived there were 28,000 hogs in the pens and between 2,000 and 25,000 cattle. The sheep alone had been sold. The packers announced today that the attempt to import no more unskilled labor. This news was declared by the strikers to be a bait to them in the hope of breaking the union ranks.

DONNELLY IN KANSAS CITY.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., August 3.—President Michael Donnelly, who arrived in the city at midnight, addressed the striking packing house employees at Shawnee Park in Kansas City, Kas., today.

Previous to the mass meeting, which was attended by several thousand persons, the strike leader was met at the State line by over 2000 union men of different crafts, who paraded to the park.

President Donnelly reiterated the statement that the strikers would win in the end. He expressed satisfaction with the situation as he had found it in other cities and said that it was a case of tie-up everywhere.

"And we propose to have it remain a tie-up," he added.

The morning was spent in conferring with local labor leaders.

William H. Mills, a student of trade and economics, has formulated some excellent suggestions for the development of the Pacific Ocean commerce. He has outlined a scheme for its development, which he believes will be of great benefit to the United States.

Mills' scheme is based on the principle of the "open door" policy, which he believes is essential for the development of the Pacific Ocean commerce. He suggests that the United States should open its ports to all nations, and that it should encourage trade with all nations.

The Bard Fight Against M'Lachlan

The Los Angeles Times, which is insisting with characteristic vehemence and intolerance that nobody has the right to be a candidate for the Senate in opposition to Senator Bard, or even, indeed, to oppose him, is with great violence opposing the renomination of Congressman McLachlan. As there is no avowed candidate for the nomination against Mr. McLachlan, the Times must understand that it is only baiting a Republican candidate in the interest of whomsoever the Democrats nominate against him.

The Times says, "obviously, McLachlan is unfitted" to occupy a seat in Congress. It bases this sweeping condemnation on the allegation that Mr. McLachlan "has given ample evidence that he lacks initiative, force and influence at Washington."

Curiously enough this is precisely the objection that is urged against Senator Bard. He lacks initiative, force and influence at Washington. He is a respectable citizen, an upright business man, a worthy neighbor and a regular attendant at the Presbyterian Church, but as a Senator in Congress he is very much like a painted lath, straight but out of place and practically useless. The Times dismisses these objections, however, with the assertion that the opposition to Senator Bard comes solely from the ungodly and the Southern Pacific. In politics the Times is a good deal like a man suffering from delirium tremens—it is always fighting snakes and devils. When it takes a position it invariably assumes that sin and the Southern Pacific are on the other side.

While the Times has never liked McLachlan, whom it assisted once to defeat that a Democrat might be elected, its present crusade against him appears to owe its inspiration to the fact that many of McLachlan's political friends are opposing Senator Bard for re-election. Apparently the Times would again aid the election of a Democrat to Congress in place of a Republican merely to punish McLachlan because his friends refuse to fall into line for Senator Bard.

The Republicans of Los Angeles are not alone concerned in this. It concerns the Republican party of the State and Nation. The Republican party will have need of every vote it can obtain in the next Congress, yet here is the Los Angeles Times fiercely denouncing its home Republican candidate, who is sure of renomination, as absolutely unfitted to sit in Congress! This is hitting the whole party. It is equivalent to assisting the enemy to tie the hands of President Roosevelt in Congress. Does Senator Bard endorse this fire from the rear on a Republican member of Congress?

We observe that a number of virtuous and entirely disinterested journals are still charging the Hearst papers with inventing that fake about Uncle Henry Davis, the Democratic Vice-Presidential candidate, being engaged to marry a sprightly widow of seventy. It was the Philadelphia North American, pious John Wanamaker's personal organ, that first printed the romantic canard. No doubt the good Mr. Wanamaker is duly shocked that his paper should have lied so tremendously, but, then, the story made good reading for the ribald and irreverent—and there was the Hearst papers to lay the blame on.

The papers are still making game of Professor William Carey Jones, head of the department of jurisprudence at the State University, for pleading ignorance of the law when arrested for riding a bicycle on the sidewalk. They forge that an honest confession is sometimes as good for the pocket as it is for the soul. Professor Jones' candor saved him a fine. Like some of the other one-ringed circus managers at Berkeley, he doesn't need to indulge in it in earning his salary.

It has been abundantly demonstrated that while the Czar may suppress free speech in Russia he cannot suppress bomb-throwing. And it may be said that the bomb is a protest against tyranny that makes itself heard—and felt.

The Paris dispatch stating that Korea is on the verge of revolt against the Japanese may be taken with a maximum of salt. Ever since war in the Orient broke out the Paris journals have teemed with wild canards about Russian victories and Japanese disasters. All of these stories have proved to be without foundation, and the last one can be properly classed as a fake along with the others. The press and people of Paris are unreasoning partisans of Russia, and theirs is a kind of partisanship that will neither tell nor credit the truth. It is not unlikely also that liberal dispensations from the Russian secret service fund contributes largely to the coloring of the war news printed by the Paris papers, which are as notoriously venal as they are clever. The Koreans fear the Japanese more than any other nation, and will not dare to lift a hand against them, especially when they are driving the Russians further and further from the Korean frontier.

The speeches of Bryan in support of Judge Parker are considered good Republican campaign material, but Judge Parker can console himself with the reflection that Bryan's speeches in his own behalf were usually considered good Republican campaign material.

The "straw vote" in New York City is strong for Roosevelt, but wait till the hayseed vote from up-State is canvassed, then you will see Roosevelt majorities as is majorities, my countrymen.

Character of Queen Elizabeth

The valiant ardor of Professor Henry Morse Stephens to vindicate the character of Queen Elizabeth reminds one of Bardolph's readiness to go Balstaff's security. It is a needless service. While the morals of Queen Bess were none of the best, her reign was certainly a glorious one for England. There was a good deal of piracy on the high seas mixed up with it, some wantonness at court and some judicial murdering, but on the whole the Elizabethan era was one in which Englishmen can take a just pride. It is useless to extenuate the treatment of Mary Stuart. While the case cannot be properly judged by modern standards, it was bad enough at best. Still Mary Stuart is entitled to little sympathy. Her morals were no better than those of red-haired Bess Tudor, whom she hated and plotted against. It was perhaps a good thing for both Scotland and England that she was moved up and kept out of mischief, but the end does not always justify the means. At least Elizabeth had the spirit of a ruler and the heart of a man. She was every inch a queen, ethical and moral considerations aside, and she held her sceptre with a tight fist and wielded it like a true sovereign. Rulers cannot be made of women—or men, either—who fondle lap dogs and curly-haired muscians. Elizabeth was the best, as a monarch, of the Tudor breed—not the worst by any means that has sat on the English throne—and Mary was a bad specimen of the Stuarts, the most incompetent and worthless of all the royal families of Britain.

But who cares nowadays about the relative merits of the Norman-Welsh Tudors or the Norman-Welsh-Scotch Stuarts. History is not made up of private immoralities save insofar as they affect public morals and public policies, as in the case of France under the Bourbons, but its judgments are concerned with the course of events and their moving cause during epochs. By this standard, Elizabeth was a great monarch and her reign one of the most glorious in English annals. Its influence has been projected into our own time, for her corsairs and statesmen were potent in breaking the power of Spain and making North America English and Protestant instead of Spanish or French and Catholic. The Stuarts were of too poor stuff to ever be a kingly race or to breed a real tyrant, as a genuine king must be.

Japan's Victorious Advance

The Russians continue to meet with reverses. Kuropatkin has been driven from all his strong positions south of Mukden, and is rapidly withdrawing his scattered and beaten battalions to the northward, evidently with the intention of leaving all Manchuria south of Mukden in the hands of the victorious Japanese. At Port Arthur the Japanese are steadily closing in on the fortress. They have captured outwork after outwork till they are in a position to shell the defenses of the town itself, and soon the last refuge of General Stoessel will be a constant rain of explosive projectiles. The Japs have so ruined the approaches to the outer harbor that the Russian ships do not dare to brave destruction by venturing out. Apparently the Moscow fleet has little chance to escape in case Port Arthur falls. As Kuropatkin's defeat and retreat northward puts relief out of the question, the fall of the Russian stronghold seems only a question of time—of a short time. It may hold out a week, it may hold out a month but final capture seems inevitable. With Port Arthur in their hands and Kuropatkin driven out of Manchuria, the Japs will be in a position to rest on their laurels, and leave to Russia the task of retaking what has been wrested from her.

Our neighbor, the Encinal is so strenuously insistent on Alameda being allowed to manage its own affairs without outside interference that we are surprised at its pertinacious attempts to meddle with the domestic concerns of Oakland. The citizens of Oak need no gratuitous assistance in settling the garbage question, and our Alameda contemporary displays rather bad taste in making itself the mouthpiece of a few disgruntled kickers on this side the harbor who stand for a filthy and disease-breeding system of garbage disposal that the health authorities of this city have been trying to get rid of for twenty years. If Alameda desires to be made a dumping ground for the offal of Oakland, that is her affair, but when Alamedans butt into our affairs to the extent of attempting to tell us what we shall do they become intrusive, to say the least. Persons who are anxious to be permitted to fry their own fish in their own way should be willing to concede the same liberty to their neighbors.

Colonel D. T. Perkins is the business partner of Senator Bard and was nominated for the Assembly, in Ventura county, in the interest of the junior Senator's candidacy. On the day he was nominated he made this statement:

"While I must decline to consider the suggestion that Senator Bard will be eliminated at any time from the present contest, I do not hesitate to say that, realizing the considerable sentiment existing in Ventura county in favor of Henry T. Oxnard, I shall vote for him for United States Senator in the event of Senator Bard's inability to secure a re-election."

What do the men who have been asserting that Mr. Oxnard's candidacy is insolent and improper think of this? Colonel Perkins is the neighbor and personal acquaintance of Mr. Oxnard, and by declaring for him as his second choice gives the public to understand that he regards Mr. Oxnard as well fitted to represent California in the United States Senate. At once he sweeps away the whole contention that Mr. Oxnard has no right to aspire to the Senate. Colonel Perkins clearly realizes the significance of the fact that Mr. Oxnard received a majority of the votes cast in the Ventura primary.

Like his venerable associate on the Democratic ticket, Judge Parker has a Republican for a son-in-law. Rev. Charles M. Hall, rector of the Episcopal Church at Esopus, who is married to Judge Parker's daughter, staunchly adheres to the party of protection, sound money and good government. He and Senator Elkins ought to meet and ratify the nomination of Roosevelt and Fairbanks. A good motto for them to adopt would be, Down with fathers-in-law.

The selection of George Foster Peabody, the philanthropist to be treasurer of the Democratic National Committee, does not imply that the Democratic party is an object of charity, but it does convey the idea that the party wishes to be considered on its good behavior.

A Chee Foo dispatch says the Japanese made a three days' assault on the "inner defenses" of Port Arthur, but were repulsed with terrible slaughter. The Japanese loss is placed at 25,000. Inasmuch as the information comes from a Russian who escaped from Port Arthur in a Chinese junk while the fighting was in progress, it is difficult to understand how the extent of the Japanese losses was ascertained. The statement that the Japanese assaulted the inner line of defenses is important. If true, it proves that the Russians have been driven to the last ditch. The same dispatch says the Russian hospitals at Port Arthur are swamped, thousands of wounded lying in the houses and shops of Chinese, who have been evicted to make room for the injured. This does not indicate that Port Arthur can hold out much longer. But, then, the war news heretofore emanating from Chee Foo has been largely of a Munchausen order, hence the dispatch must be taken with considerable allowance.

To destroy ants dissolve some sugar in water and in this dip a fairly large sponge. Wring it out and put it in the place infested by ants. The ants will soon be attracted by the sugar and if the sponge be plunged in boiling water in about a coup of hours a large number of them will be destroyed. The sponge should be used as a trap again and again till the plague of ants has ceased.

Table silver, such as knives, forks and spoons, can be made to retain its new, unsaturated look indefinitely by being provided with little chemists' cases, in which they can be slipped after being properly washed. These cases are easily made. They take a little time and trouble at first, but last for years, and their use becomes a habit. Canton or outing fannel may be substituted for the chemists, if preferred.

To clean paint dissolve two table-spoonsful of powdered borax in a little boiling water, and when this is thoroughly melted add it to sufficient cold water to bring it all to a generous three pints. Dust the paint very thoroughly, then sponge it well, rubbing it with the borax solution, rinsing it up with a clean, soft cloth. If the paint is varnished it may be rubbed up with a little good furniture cream, after it is thoroughly dry. Benzine will remove the spots from enameled woodwork.

A pretty and appetizing gift to any one that is ill is a basket of orange and lemon jelly in orange skins. Cut the tops from several thin-skinned oranges and through this opening remove the pulp. Fill the skins with a stiff orange or lemon jelly and stand upright until the jelly is hard. They put on the covers and arrange the oranges in a pretty basket.

SUPERVISOR MITCHELL IS HEARTILY ENDORSED.

Opens Campaign With Enthusiastic Commendation of Representative Citizens of Oakland.

The Second Ward Republican Club, 200 strong, endorsed the candidacy of Supervisor John Mitchell at an enthusiastic meeting held in Milton Hall, San Pablo avenue and Twenty-eighth street last night and promised him their votes and their hearty support. It was a half-hearted body that assembled at the meeting to do a boss' bidding. Well known public men and hard working wage earners filled the hall, and tonight a meeting of the young men of the district is to be held at 1939 Market street at the corner of Thirtieth to form a Mitchell Club.

John Mitchell was in the hands of his friends last night and they gave him a loyal welcome. There were no dissenters and a feeling of unanimity pervaded the entire audience. From the sentiments expressed, which came freely and voluntarily and without preparation from persons in diverse walks of life, it was evident that the people of the Fifth Supervisorial district are satisfied and pleased with the record of their representative and will return him to his position on the Board by an overwhelming majority. Expressions of confidence in his business sagacity and integrity were everywhere expressed and he was given the assurance of that assemblage in unmistakable terms that every man there was for him, to vote and work for his re-nomination and re-election.

PUBLICITY.

Wide notice had been given of the meeting that was to be held as there was to be a reorganization of the Second Ward Club for the purpose of arranging itself behind the Mitchell banner. When all had gotten into the hall that space would permit, the meeting was called to order by W. E. Griffith, who stated that owing to the removal from the district of the president of the club and the expiration of the terms of office of other officers, the first business would have to be the election of a new set of officials.

C. E. SNOOK.

C. E. Snook arose and said: "I take great pleasure in placing in nomination for president of this club the name of a young man who is well known in this neighborhood. His home is here. While he is not a great talker, he is an enthusiastic worker and those are the kind of people we want at the head of this organization. I place in nomination the name of A. H. Marks."

The mention of Marks' name evoked loud applause and as there were no other nominations, A. H. Marks was declared unanimously elected president of the club.

RETURNS THANKS.

Upon assuming the chair the newly elected president took occasion to thank the members for the honor they had bestowed on him and then declared that the next order of business would be the election of a vice president. For this office Councilman Elliot placed in nomination W. E. Griffith and he was unanimously elected. A. A. Rieser was then elected secretary and Police Judge Mortimer Smith was elected treasurer. A constitution and by-laws were then adopted and when this routine work had been disposed of Edward Jost took the floor and said:

JOST SPEAKS.

"As this is a Republican Club, formed for the purpose of furthering the election of the Republican candidates for National, State and municipal elections, I have a friend here, who shall be such as long as life shall last, who is a candidate for re-election to an office which he has filled faithfully and well. He is a Republican and I want to bespeak for him the support of this organization. He is known to you all and for the past eight years has represented the residents of the Second Ward and the Fifth district as Supervisor. I mean Supervisor Mitchell, and I want him to address this club."

There was a rousing reception given the name of Mitchell when it was mentioned and as soon as the applause had subsided somewhat he made his way to the platform, where he delivered the following address:

MR. MITCHELL SPEAKS.

Supervisor Mitchell spoke as follows, being frequently interrupted by applause: "Mr. Chairman and fellow-citizens of the Second Ward: From the bottom of my heart I thank you for this enthusiastic reception. We all know the ability of the Second Ward to respond whenever its interests are concerned."

"For fifteen years I have been your done best that he is most criticized. This only goes to show how unjust such criticisms are and how little foundation there is for such talk.

PRIMARY DAY.

"Now, gentlemen, I want to bespeak the energy of this club. It won't do to simply sit here and talk. We must work. When primary day comes around every member here should be out early and vote and then get others to vote. We must work hard and not let up until he is back in the position which he has filled with so much credit."

JUDGE SMITH.

Great applause followed the address of Attorney Snook and then Police Judge Smith was called upon for a speech and said:

"Next Tuesday is primary day in this ward. We have always been Mr. Mitchell's friend in this ward, and we are not going to fail him now. We have work ahead of us. Urge your friends and let every man get out and see all the men he knows. I have a great admiration for Mr. Mitchell and I will put on, for one, to do all in my power to aid his re-nomination and election. But we must all work. There is not a member here who has some influence. We want you to exert this, and if you do this the result will take care of itself."

COUNCILMAN ELLIOT.

Councilman Elliot was the next one to address the meeting and said: "We are assembled here tonight to endorse Mr. Mitchell. We have done this in a loud and vehement manner. When a man has been elected to office and served the people well and wants office again, it is little enough that a grateful people can do to place him there again. The pay does not compensate him for the time and labor he spends. The emoluments are not such that he retires from office for the rest of his days upon his earnings. He must still work and the time he has taken from his pursuits can never be recalled.

NO DETRACTION.

"We have no criticism to make nor do we wish to go into a campaign of detraction. We have nothing to say against the gentleman who is to be re-nominated at the hands of the people of this district. But he does not live in the Second Ward and how he can hope to know and get the support of this ward under these circumstances I do not know."

"There is one thing more I want to ask at the hands of this meeting and that is the endorsement of Assemblyman Bliss for re-nomination from this Assembly district. He has done good work for the people and he wants that office again, and I now move that it is the sentiment of this club that Mr. Bliss be given the nomination from this district."

The motion was enthusiastically carried and the meeting then adjourned in order to give those present an opportunity to sign the muster roll.

Speeches were also made by ex-Senator Earl and ex-Judge Stetson and others.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVORERS.

The next Alameda county quarterly convention of the Christian Endeavor Union will be held on Friday, August 12th, instead of the 13th, as was at first planned. The Endeavorers of the Alameda City Endeavor Union, of which George O. Bondwell is president, are making elaborate arrangements for the convention, which meets at the First Presbyterian Church of this city, both as pertaining to the program and the entertainment of their guests. There will be a large number of guests who are expected to come from home to return the same night.

There will be an after noon and an evening session, sandwichee and basket lunch at 3:15 p. m. The afternoon session, commencing at 3:30, will be devoted largely to a "Workers' Conference," conducted by Mrs. Anderson, of San Leandro; Miss Amelia Kuhlitz, of Watsonville; Dr. Neval of San Jose; Dr. A. S. Kelly, of Oakland; and Rev. W. C. Sherman, of Sacramento.

During the basket lunch there will be a number of toasts by well-known speakers. At the evening session, which begins at 7:15, addresses will be given by Mr. Bondwell, both of San Jose and

A POLITICAL JOB FRUSTRATED.

ONE ON SMITH OF KERN—DEMOCRATIC FACTIONS LINING UP.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 3.—General George Stone, Chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, has nipped in the bud a nice little scheme to give ex-Senator S. C. Smith of Kern an undue advantage over Senator M. L. Ward of San Diego, for the Congressional nomination in the Eighth district. This scheme was to have the apportionment for Congressional delegates based on the vote cast for Congressman Daniels at the last election instead of the vote cast for Governor, which the State Committee has decided should be the basis of representation. This would have deprived San Diego county of two delegates, which would of course have reduced Senator Ward's strength to that extent.

General Stone has written to the chairman of several district committees that he has been informed by the Secretary of State that a petition for calling a Congressional convention was not received within the time prescribed by law, therefore the delegates chosen to the State convention will constitute the Congressional district convention in accordance with the call issued by the State Central Committee. General Stone adds that these delegates must meet at the place for holding the State convention for organization after the State convention has passed upon their credentials. This shatters a clever scheme to give Smith a snap nomination.

DEMOCRATIC FACTIONS LINE UP.

In the Democratic political field the rival chiefs, Gavin McNab and James H. O'Brien, are lining up their respective forces for the general engagement at the primaries next Tuesday. In every Assembly district of San Francisco each leader has filed a ticket, but the assertion is made in both camps that the tickets were prepared by the party leaders in the several districts without any pressure from headquarters.

James H. O'Brien has established campaign headquarters on the parlor floor of the Grand Hotel, and is surrounded by a large staff of workers and advisers. At O'Brien's headquarters a declaration is made that many well-known men of high standing are lending their support to the Democratic League. It is said that the banner of the league is borne by Livingston Jenks, Garret W. McInerney, W. H. Alford, John J. Barry, John Gallagher, George Gallagher, William F. Humphrey, Ed. Scully, Chas. J. Haggerty, John Gleason, John E. Drum, Stephen Costello, Joseph E. O'Donnell, William A. Breslin, Dr. John Kingwell, John F. Mullin, Dan O'Callaghan, Frank Kaufman, William T. Kenney, Charles O'Brien, James Cronin, John W. McDonald, Harry Gre-well and D. M. Delmas.

The Democratic State Central Committee will move its headquarters from the California Hotel to the Bishop building, 445 Market street. More commodious and centrally located accommodations without increase of rental are the cause of the change.

WAITING FOR THE GOVERNOR.

While waiting for Governor Pardee's ruling, the politicians are speculating as to whom he will name prison director to succeed R. M. Fitzgerald, whose term has expired. The Governor will also be called on to appoint two members of the State Board of Library Trustees, one to succeed Dr. Thomas Flint, deceased, the other to succeed W. C. Van Fleet, whose term of four years expired February 28, 1904.

It is expected that the Governor will also appoint a major-general of the National Guard of California. It is said that Brigadier-General Muller will be promoted and then be retired at once with the rank of major-general. The same honor will be accorded to Brigadier-General Warfield, who will go to the regular list with the rank of major-general. Thereafter the real appointment to succeed General Dickinson as division commander will be announced.

MAN FROM MEXICO DELIGHTS EVERYBODY

Last night the production of "The Man From Mexico" at Ye Liberty Theater was witnessed by an audience which is not a weak performer in the east. This was extremely gratifying, because about 700 people had come especially from Alameda for the purpose of enjoying themselves. It was universally admitted that the play succeeded in attaining the purpose for which they came. The last curtain dropped pretty late owing to the interruptions caused by the frequent applause.

The theater entrance was beautifully decorated with flowers and American and California flags in honor of the guests from Alameda, many of whom were Native Sons and Daughters. A large flag was hung in an appropriate place on the stage in one of the scenes, and its appearance aroused enthusiasm among the audience.

The officers of Alameda, Parlor who arranged for the party are: Past president, E. J. Probst; president, Charles Rock; vice-president, A. T. House; second vice-president, W. M. Walkup Jr.; third vice-president, B. Hyams; marshal, Herman Biele; recording secretary, A. V. Fisher; financial secretary, C. H. Rose; treasurer, Louis Fischer; trustee, H. M. Pond.

"The Man From Mexico" will be repeated every night this week and will be worthy of full houses on each occasion.

RUSSIA'S RIGHT STOCKWELL AT TO SEARCH. MACDONOUGH.

HARVEY BROWN'S VIEWS AS TO SEIZURE OF VESSELS ON HIGH SEAS. FINE ATTRACTION OUTLINED FOR PERFORMERS NEXT WEEK.

The following has been sent to THE TRIBUNE by Attorney Harvey Brown:

"The present war between Russia and Japan is liable to raise serious questions between Russia and the United States if the former adheres to the claim promulgated by her as to what goods are contraband and liable to seizure. By the law of nations, arms and munitions of war alone are liable to seizure and condemnation. But, at the very threshold, another most serious question arises. How can Russia prove that a given vessel has contraband goods aboard? Has she the right to seize a vessel and cargo because she suspects that the cargo consists of munitions? Is the vessel of a neutral power to be subjected to a search in order to ascertain if she has such contraband goods? And, furthermore, is the Government of the United States prepared to admit the right of search? Will it sit idly by and allow the seizure of vessels and cargoes of its citizens because a portion of the latter is contraband under the pretensions of Russia, but is not contraband under the laws of the United States? Under that law, Russia has the undoubted right to declare and enforce (if she can) a blockade of the Japanese ports and thus prevent the landing of the articles declared by her to be contraband and may seize and condemn vessels and cargoes attempting to run the blockade, and in no other way can she do so. She has no right to overhaul and search the ship of a neutral on the high seas. The deck of every American vessel is as sacred on the high seas as any acre of American territory, and any invasion of it by a Russian officer under any pretext is an offense against the Government of the United States. The commerce of the country, and especially that of the Pacific coast, now in great danger because of the monstrous pretensions of Russia. And now is the time to forever settle the question that has tormented the Government and people of the country."

Defined.

Santos-Dumont's determination not to return to this country is said to be partly due to the presence of a rich and pretty American girl in Paris. Most men will agree with him that an betrothal at home is worth a whole flock of airships in St. Louis.—New York Mail.

L. R. Stockwell, who, with Jimmy Britt as a co-star and a strong cast, will depict how politics are done and domestic affairs run in the Northwest through the medium of "Bashford's play, 'The Hon. John North.' Stockwell is a natural-born comedian. He is natural in himself and he cannot do otherwise than make people laugh. His expression, tone of voice, walk and gesture, as well as personality, are suggestive of that singularity which always brings a laugh. Even when standing on the street informally discussing affairs with a friend or an acquaintance he will invariably draw a crowd. It was the late Charles H. Hoyt, the famous playwright who referred to him as the "man who has made millions laugh," and Charles Frohman said Stockwell is "king of American character comedians." Stockwell has moreover figured conspicuously in the story of the stage for over a generation. He was for years associated with McKee Rankin, then in the full glory of his fame and prime, and for a season he managed Nance O'Neill, the Oakland girl, who has risen to the very heights of fame as the world's tragedienne. Stockwell built the Columbia Theater in San Francisco, which, during his management, was known as Stockwell's Theater. There is not a city, town or village on the North American continent in which Stockwell's name is not a household word and a synonym for comedy of the quaint kind. The late Charles H. Hoyt was so taken with Stockwell's peculiar genius that he wrote three of his most successful plays to suit him. They were "A Texas Steer," "A Temperance Town" and "A Midnight Bell," and in all three Stockwell created the leading roles with singular success. He toured the country in them and even to this day his name in theatrical circles is inseparably linked to that of the great playwright in giving to the country a class of productions which are typical of American comedy character. Stockwell will appear for eight nights and a prize matinee, beginning next Sunday, August 7th. The seats are now on sale at 15, 25, 35 and 50 cents.

FREE LIBRARY IN GOOD SHAPE.

LIBRARIAN GREENE PRESENTS
THE REPORT TO THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES.

At last night's meeting of the Library Trustees, Librarian C. E. Greene presented the following monthly report:

"To the Board of Trustees of the Free Public Library and Reading Rooms: Gentlemen: I herewith present my report for the month of July, 1904:

"Number of borrowers July 1, 1904, 1988; number of borrowers added, 281; number of borrowers withdrawn, 33; number of borrowers August 2, 1904, 10,116.

"Money received from fines, $17.70; money received from lost books, $1.10; money received from sale of catalogues, $2.25. Total, $31.

"Number of volumes issued for home use, 14,645; fiction, 8703-59-43; juvenile, 1294-13-60; history, 229-1-51; biography, 1741-11; travel, 238-1-55; belles lettres, 497-3-38; science, 288-1-58; poetry, 36-0-59; music, 148-0-1; religion, 123-0-34; miscellaneous, 419-2-07; magazines, 1187-9-52; visitors to reference department, 251; visitors to children's department, 4701; number of volumes added by purchase, 161; number of volumes added by gift, 1; number of volumes added by binding, 4; Total, 166. Discarded, 228.

"Since my last report I have bought ninety books at a cost of $35.32. I have visited all the reading rooms since my last report. The work of cleaning has been completed. As the twenty-third avenue reading room was thoroughly gone over July 25, 26 and 27. Shaving has been ordered for Allen and is to be done this week. The special meal for this is shown in Miss Burdick's report of the gift of some 700 volumes, mostly of juvenile books, by Mrs. A. M. Esterie. These books are to constitute the beginning of a deposit library at Alden. A special book plate will be needed to mark them. Mrs. Esterie makes the gift in remembrance of Birdie Bell, the infant son of her late sister, Mrs. M. L. Stowe. It is to be welcomed as an indication that the reading rooms are to be built up and actively supported by the people of their neighborhoods. Twenty-third avenue has long had a small reference collection of books, put in by the Twenty-third Avenue Improvement Club. When we are able to put some circulating books in all the reading rooms they will attract gifts of other books from many sources.

"The estimates of expenses for 1904-05 was duly prepared, submitted to Trustees Alexander and Morrow and President Carlton, and as modified by them, turned in to the City Auditor. A copy is filed herewith. Respectfully submitted, CHAS. S. GREENE, Librarian."

Librarian Greene also presented his ## annual report, which shows that the library is flourishing in every department and is a great credit to the city.

TO TEACH CHINESE ROYALTY ENGLISH.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., August 3.—The Rev. Dr. William H. Sallmor, President of Charleston College, Northfield, Minn., who is spending his vacation in this city, has received notification that Miss Mary Reynolds, of Sibley, Iowa, has been appointed by imperial decree, tutor in the English language to the nephews of the Empress of China. Miss Reynolds will sail in October to begin her duties.

MISS REYNOLDS WILL NOT RESIDE AT THE IMPERIAL PALACE. Her home will be in Beijing with a missionary family there and she will go back and forth to the palace daily. Her contract calls for her to remain at her post for two years with a possible extension of time to a third year. During that time she will be in rather intimate contact with certain members of the imperial family.

Miss Reynolds has been a student at the college for the last six years and graduated with honors last June.

MAKING REPAIRS ON TWELFTH STREET.

Work has been begun by Superintendent of Streets Ott on East Twelfth street. It is to be repaired from First avenue to Eleventh avenue. Seven feet ago the thoroughfare was paved with wooden blocks and covered with bitumen. This method of treating the street has proved so successful that the residents of that district wish it continued. The street, on account of the smoothness, is the best known drive in East Oakland.

WANT WORKMEN TO RETURN.

"CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—Notwithstanding the claim of the packing house managers that they have no difficulty in securing workmen they are said to be making very strong efforts to induce their former employees to return to work. The latest move made in that line is the distribution of cards among the wives of the strikers urging them to induce their husbands to return to the packing-houses and offering increased pay. The firm of Schwarzschild & Sulzberger notified the county officials that it could make the usual weekly delivery of meat according to contract and the superintendent of public service placed an order for $4.00 worth of meat with an independent firm.

Remember that four thrown on burning kerosene or gasoline will extinguish the flame.

MERCHANTS HOLD SESSION.

MANY MATTERS OF INTEREST TAKEN UP WHICH WILL BENEFIT CITY.

At the meeting of the Merchants' Exchange last night there was much business of a routine nature which was of interest.

A communication was received from the Merchants' Association of San Francisco congratulating the Exchange upon the advertising value of the handbook recently issued by it, and also upon the excellent showing made by Alameda county at the St. Louis fair.

The San Francisco Chamber of Commerce notified the Exchange that the Merchant Marine Commission, with Senator J. H. Gallagher as chairman, would be in that city on Thursday and Friday, August 4 and 5, ready to discuss with all interested in such matters, legislation in the coming Congress in relation to merchant marine concerns, and shipping and commercial interests generally. A committee consisting of Messrs. Walker, Gier and Wilcox was appointed to attend the sessions of this commission at the Chamber of Commerce in San Francisco.

Director D. C. Brown, chairman of the Tenth street committee reported that the Ransome-Hutchinson Company, which had once agreed to do the work of bluing this street, by private contract, had now abandoned the plan, and the work would have to be done by the city.

Director Sobst, who has in charge the matter of procuring an all-night ferry service reported progress had been made.

Charles De La Fontaine of 1717 Chestnut street, Alameda, urged the Exchange in a letter to take up the matter of urging the Southern Pacific Company to run its trains, especially the first train in the morning on time. The writer said if the train was a half hour late in the morning many workmen reached the places of their employment late.

A very animated discussion arose over this matter. It was considered worthy of serious attention and was finally referred to the committee on all-night ferry service.

The California Co-operative Meat Company, by its president, John L. Davis, made a formal application for admission to membership in the Exchange. It was unanimously admitted.

FIREWORKS DO DAMAGE.

NEW YORK, August 2.—Two men were severely injured and the windows of half a dozen houses smashed last night in Brooklyn by the premature explosion of a lot of fireworks. The arrival of a squad of police reserves was all that prevented a riot in the wake of the explosion.

The St. Alfonso society was holding a feast and celebration. On a small platform in the street was a big heap of fireworks.

The Roman candles and wheels and bombs were just beginning to boom in fine shape when suddenly there was an explosion which scattered the crowd and knocked the platform to pieces. A fragment of a bomb struck a po-## man in the side and knocked him down. Another man was struck in the eye by a piece of a bomb. The injured men were removed to hospitals.

After the explosion the members of the society were bent on mobbing the master of ceremonies, but the police took him in charge and he was locked up on a charge of criminal negligence.

STATE TAKES OAKLAND BONDS.

That the State was the purchaser of one-third of the $960,000 school bond issue recently authorized by the voters of Oakland has been developed by the visit to this city of Secretary W. S. Melick of the State Board of Examiners.

The bond issue was bid in by the Oakland Bank of Savings and the Central Bank at par. It was supposed at the time that the banks were acting solely for themselves in the purchase, but according to Secretary Melick, they bought the bonds with the understanding that the State Board of Examiners should get one-third of the total amount at the price named in the bid. The State shares with the two banks the expenses of the purchase. The Board of Examiners purchases the bonds out of the school funds which are by law placed in its hands for investment. Within the last year the board has thus invested $1,250,000 of the State fund derived from the sale of school lands.

SCHAEFER'S CHALLENGE.

NEW YORK, August 3.—Jacob Schaefer's challenge for a billiard match has been greatly modified since it was first given out by him in Paris Friday, on the eve of his sailing for America.

As now stated, Schaefer will make a match to take place either in Paris or New York next December and will toss for the choice of cushions. The original challenge provided that, the first game should be on a new cushion, for attaching his name to which, Schaefer is paid a salary and the winner should select the cushion for the second.

The difference in wording the challenge is very material since, Schaefer has been using the new cushion nearly a year, while all other leading players who might accept have been playing on another cushion. The inventor of the new cushion says he will provide equipment for practice of any player accepting Schaefer's challenge but acceptances are extremely doubtful, according to the statements made by Blosson, Daly and others.

Secretary of the State Board of Examiners W. S. Melick has checked up the charitable institutions in Alameda county that receive State aid, namely, the Fred Finch Orphanage at Diamond, which receives $11,000 a year from the State; the West Oakland Home, $5600; the Ladies Relief Society at Alden, $5500; the Beulah Orphanage, near Mills College, $2000; the Golden Gate Orphanage, $2000.

Mineral Springs, open the year round. To whom it may concern: A year and three months ago I was attacked with that terrible disease, locomotor ataxia. Power to balance, stand or even sit down entirely lost. Two best doctors of San Francisco and Hot Springs, Ark., failed to help me. My stomach, bowels and kidneys failed to work. I had cramps of stomach, head and bladder as a result of the disease; these troubles became chronic. At times my heart would beat like a drum, my eyes grew weak, my memory bad, my nerves wrecked. Three months ago I went to Tuscan Springs. What happened since was a pleasant surprise to me. Drink the waters, took the baths, after three weeks' treatment stomach, bowels, bladder and kidneys in perfect condition, eyesight perfect, nervousness gone, memory good. After three months' treatment walked without cane, with eyes closed and up and down steep hills; am cured of this dread disease, now walk with slight limp. OAKLAND AIR SHIP SAILS IN THE BREEZE. BIG ENTERPRISE FOR POWER.

Capt. T. S. Baldwin Ascends From Idora Park, Flies Northward and Regains Terra Firma in Safety.

This morning Captain T. S. Baldwin, the daring aeronaut, made another ascent with his flying machine from the stall in Idora Park. He rose to a height of about 500 feet and sailed as far northward as Sixty-fifth street, attracting general attention as he advanced.

The ascension was a perfect success.

With Baldwin in the car as navigator, the flying machine circled over the park both with and against the wind, demonstrating in every turn of the propeller and in every move of the steering gear and of the weights which raise or lower the machine at will, that the plans of the inventor have been accurately carried out.

Not desiring to test the machine today in a high wind, Captain Baldwin remained less than half an hour in the air, until he was assured just how the machine would behave under any conditions of wind and weather.

NOVEL FEATURES.

The airship with which Baldwin believes he has finally solved the problem of aerial navigation possesses many features which distinguish it from other machines. The chief feature of them is that the propelling an, instead of being placed at the stern, is placed at the bow of the frame. In this manner the airship, instead of being driven, is pulled through the atmosphere. This, according to the inventor, permits of much greater speed, and also facilitates the steering, as well as raising or lowering of the machine.

THE CYLINDER.

The balloon by means of which the airship is suspended is cigar-shaped. It measures fifty-four feet in length and seventeen feet in diameter. It is made of a fine quality of silk, and with the netting which attaches it to the frame or car, weighs ninety pounds. The balloon is inflated with hydrogen gas, its capacity being 8000 cubic feet.

LIGHT FRAME WORK.

To this balloon is attached the frame which supports the propelling and steering mechanism. This frame, made of aluminum, is forty-eight feet in length. The engine which drives the propeller is one of the ordinary gasoline type, seven horse-power, and 2000 revolutions a minute. The transmitting mechanism is so adjusted to cause the propeller blades to make 150 revolutions per minute. The frame, engine, rudder and shifting weight weigh in all 220 pounds.

THE RUDDER.

The rudder is rectangular in shape and is easily handled from any portion of the frame. In fact, the latter is so constructed as to permit the navigator to move freely about instead of being obliged to remain stationary. A weight, which at will can be shifted from bow to stern or vice-versa, permits the airship to be raised or lowered at will.

CAPTAIN BALDWIN'S STORY.

"I believe I have successfully solved the problem of aerial navigation," said Captain Baldwin after he had made the ascent. "The airship has exceeded my fondest hopes, both for simplicity of construction and for the manner in which it can be handled. I intend making a slight improvement however. I shall construct another frame, six feet longer than the present one and fifteen pounds lighter. The present frame, in respect of the engine, weighs sixty pounds. All one has to do, in my mind, is to construct an airship as to minimize the resistance of the atmosphere. This, I believe, I have accomplished."

OFF FOR ST. LOUIS.

"The trouble with the Greth airship, which I constructed from the plans of the inventor, was that it was too heavy. I have overcome all of these difficulties in my invention. I shall make frequent experimental trips until I know just how this machine acts under all conditions of wind and weather. Then, next Tuesday, off for St. Louis, where I am confident of capturing the $100,000 prize."

Another ascension will be made this evening about 1:30 o'clock.

PLEASANT OUTING OF LEAGUE OF THE CROSS.

The officers and members of the First Regiment League of the Cross Cadets, are making elaborate preparations for their family outing and excursion, which is to be held at Camp Taylor on Monday, September 5. This event is being looked forward to by friends of the League with much pleasure, and as all of the social events of the organization have always been very successful, this occasion promises to eclipse all former efforts.

GREAT SYNDICATE FORMING TO SUPPLY BAY COUNTIES WITH POWER.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 3.—An electrical power scheme of gigantic proportions, backed by unlimited capital and having for its object the supplying of San Francisco and other cities in the central portion of the State, is the latest of the big development enterprises in California, the particulars of which were made public last night by H. S. Masson, chief engineer for H. E. Huntington and his associates, both here and at Fresno.

Masson returned tonight from Fresno and told of the formation of a big corporation backed by English and American capital, which is planning to use the waters of the Mokelumne and other rivers and streams in Calaveras and Tuolumne counties to generate electrical power.

"I am credited with selecting sites for power plants in that district to be used by Mr. Huntington in connection with the Fresno Traction Company system," he said. "I never made a survey up there and am not employed by the corporation which is doing the work. It is not H. E. Huntington, but the Sierra Nevada Water & Power Company."

"It is a big proposition. W. G. Clark of Seattle, formerly of San Francisco, who is manager of the new company, told me that over $30,000,000 would be expended by the corporation in the development of a big power supplying business. The plan is to carry the 'juice' all the way to San Francisco and also feed various cities in the San Joaquin Valley and on the coast of Central California."

The corporation holdings are founded on property and water rights owned by an old man named W. V. Clark, who has held them for many years. The Mokelumne ditch, as the water course is to be called, will be built from the junction of the north and south forks of the Mokelumne River and will convey an enormous amount of water to various points, where turbine motors will generate the electricity. Murray M. Harris and others of this city are investing capital in this corporation. Harris is in Fresno.

It has been stated that E. H. Harriman is interested with H. E. Huntington in the Fresno Traction Company and other enterprises there and that he is also interested in the big electric power deal in that part of the State. Last night an officer high in the Huntington companies made an emphatic denial of Harriman's reported interest. He said:

"It is true that Huntington is to build from Fresno to Yosemite and that he is going after a big Yosemite business, but the proposition is backed by Mr. Huntington, W. G. Kerchoff, A. C. Finch and other Los Angeles capitalists. Harriman is not in it at all."

Yosemite is within sixteen miles of the Yosemite Valley, which is as near as any railroad can get to the Government property. The electric line from Fresno will be seventy-nine miles in length and will cost about $1,000,000 to build. The route will be by way of Clovis and Crane Valley. With Fresno as the center, Huntington intends to run various electric lines through that part of the State.

LORIN MAN HELD UP IN DARK.

ROBBED OF SMALL AMOUNT OF MONEY AND RENDERED INSENSIBLE.

J. F. Noble, who lives on Fairview street near King street, Lorin, as attacked by two footpads last night about 10 o'clock near his home, beaten into unconsciousness and then robbed of $4.50. All the money he had on his person. As the result of the assault made upon him, Noble is confined to his bed, his head and face being terribly cut and bruised.

The police have no clue as to the identity of the two highway men, as Noble was attacked in the shadow of some trees and shrubbery and as rendered unconscious before he caught more than a glimpse of his assailants. Intending to pay a number of bills, Noble left his home about dusk last night with a considerable sum of money in his pockets. After having disbursed all but $4.50 he was returning home when two men, unmasked, but armed with clubs, sprang upon him. They showed blows upon Noble's head and shoulders until he fell unconscious. When recovering consciousness Noble found that his pockets had been rifled, but the footpads left him in possession of his watch and chain, taking only the small sum of money.

Noble managed to make his way to his home and his wife summoned a physician to dress his wounds. The police were notified but as no description can be given of the highway men, there is small hope of effecting their capture.

NOT YET RETIRED FROM POLITICS. COUNCILMAN CUVELLIER HAS NOT DECIDED TO ABANDON PUBLIC LIFE.

A story was published in one of the San Francisco papers this morning to the effect that Councilman B. C. Cuvellier had decided to retire from public life at the close of his present term in the Council and that, as a consequence, he would not seek re-nomination to his present position.
